Almost from the outset, bulls had an advantage in the wheat market as a result of new hopes that the labor crisis in Great Britain would be quickly at an end. Then came news from London that the strike of railwaymen and transport workers set for tonight had been definitely countermanded. The market here at once made a sharp advance, with a much broader volume of buying on the upturn. Profit taking sales, however, assumed liberal proportions and there was a good deal of bearish comment on the fact that the British coal miners' strike was apparently to be maintained. On the other he British coat miners at the was apparently to be maintained. On the other hand, chances of freezing weather and of further adverse domestic crop conditions were against any further shashing of values. Besides some export business was noted—500,000 bushels to Germany, and Beigium.

Corn and oats averaged higher in sympathy with wheat. Rural offerings were meagre. Europeans took 200,000 bushel Provisions at first were dull and in-clined to sag, but later responded to an improved export demand and to firmness
